LOCAL MAN ROUGHS OPPONENT CONSIDERABLY IN WRESTLING BOUT IN NORTHERN CITY

Paul Poulos, after wrestling Bull Montana here and getting one fall and the decision Monday night, took his oppcnent to Eureka for a match there. Poulos put Montana on the mat twice at Eureka and roughed him up considerably. According to word of the match coming down from Eureka, Paul was anything but gentlemanly toward his ugly opponent, particularly after Montana had taken an unfair advantage or him and caught him off guard as they were returning to the center of the ring after rolling off the mat. Montana put Poulos down then for the first fall, but the local man came back and had Montana pinned twice in short order, thus winning the match.

The two went to Eureka from here at the request of George Mann, owner of the Ukiah and Eureka theatres, who gave a liberal guarantee to get them for the Eureka exhibition.

Bull Montana, well known moving picture actor, was defeated by Paul Poulos, of Ukiah, in the main event wrestling match of the State theatre show last night, Montana taking the first fall in 44 minutes with a head scissors, while Poulos took the second in 15 minutes with an arm scissors and the third in two minutes with the same hold.

Preceding the second fall, Poulos found a method of getting his rival's goat by waving his hand in the Bull's face.

A few minutes after, Montana was declared to have kicked Poulos in the face, and then the latter started fast action to dispose of his opponent, accomplishing the feat in very short time with an arm scissors lock.

WORKMAN SHOOTS COMPANION WITH FATAL RESULTS

J. W. Folan of Albion, In County Jail on Murder Charge

TROUBLE GREW FROM DISPUTE

J. W. Folan, of Albion, was brought to this city and lodged in the county jail last Tuesday evening by Deputy Sheriffs Riese and Weger following a shooting affray which took place that morning and in which Folan inflicted wounds on Conrad Sigrist from which the latter died several hours after being moved to the Albion hospital. Folan will be tried in the superior court on a charge of murder.

The two men, who were working together in the dry shed in the Albion Lumber Company's yard, got into an argument about their work. Wm. Westfall, the yard foreman, overheard the men arguing and sent Folan to his cabin, with orders to not return to his work until he had cooled off.

Folan left and it is stated walked out into the country and borrowed a pistol. He went back to the lumber yard and waited until Sigrist returned from his dinner, when the shooting occurred. There were no eye witnesses to the shooting, but four shots were fired by Folan. One lodged in Sigrist's back and one in the intestines.

A young Italian workman who heard the shots and rushed to the scene, found the old man bending over Sigrist. Folan immediately left for the rooming house, where he gathered up his belongings and started out the railroad track in an attempt to escape, but he was taken back and turned over to Deputies Riese and Weger on their arrival.

Sigrist was taken to the Albion hospital where he died at 8:30 p. m.

The officers arrived in time to get a sworn statement from Sigrist about the shooting. Sigrist had been employed at Albion about a year and was a quiet peaceable fellow and a good workman.

He was about 40 years of age. His only known relative is a brother who lives in Multonomah, Ore., who has been notiled of his brother's death.

Folan has worked at Albion about four years. It is reported that at one time he was a well-to-do land owner in Humboldt county.

Hearing Refused by State Supreme Court

Attorney George Redwine of this city received word this week that the state supreme court had refused to hear the case of the Redwood Investment Co. vs. Daugherty, Exley et al. The case was reversed by the appellate court.

The final refusal of the state supreme court to grant a hearing on the case cinches Redwine's victory in one of the hardest fought and most involved legal battles that ever was tried in Mendocino county.

The final disposition of the case gives the Redwood Investment Co. undisputed title to the property affected.

WEATHER STILL DRY

There has been no rain the past week, and the cold dry weather continues. The maximum temperature has been 64 and the minimum 21 degrees. Rainfall for the season is 9:37 inches to date, against 22.38 to date last year. The portion of the state lying north of Cloverdale is in much better shape than any other.

J. B. Belatti, of Covelo, a prominent rancher of the northern part of the county, was here the latter part of last week to attend the session of the farm bureau.

COMPUTATING TYPEWRITER IS WONDERFUL MACHINE

Assessor F. W. Reynolds has just installed in his office this week one of the latest things in the line of a combined typewriter, computator and bookkeeping machine. The machine will do all that an ordinary typewriter will do. In addition it will keep track of a page of figures, adding the lines across the page and the separate columns up and down the page, keeping all totals separately from each other and taking care also of various deductions made in the course of the work. The machine will take care of all the bookkeeping in connection with the assessment work. It will do away with long hours of work with an adding machine after the rolls have been copied, as the various operations of multipilcation, addition and subtraction are carried on automatically as the assessments are copied into the book. In addition, it will furnish a duplicate tax receipt for the tax collector, thus removing the necessity of his copying the rolls on to his receipts.

The machine is being run by Miss Veta White, Mr. Reynolds' stenographer, who was the only operator in Ukiah who had had the experience necessary to run it.

SANKOVICH ACQUITTED

Matt Sankovich, alleged Fort Bragg bootlegger, was up in the superior court for trial before a jury Wednesday on the charge. The jury acquitted Sankovich on the first ballot.

The testimony showed that a bottle partly filled with whiskey was found on the back porch of Sankovich's hotel at Fort Bragg. The ease with with which the whiskey could have been put there by someone else besides the defendant got the verdict of acquittal.

MOTOR PARTY ESCAPES DEATH BY A MIRACLE

FORT BRAGG, Jan. 23.—Ralph Keith was severely injured last Sunday, when the car in which he was traveling in company with his father and three little children, went over the grade at Dark Gulch, one mile north of Albion.

Keith was traveling toward Albion and when about 100 feet below the big turn on the south side of the grade he met a car. Keith's car was in a rut and in attempting to pull out of the runt, run off to the side of the road, he lost control of his car, which with its occupants, went off the grade. In the descent, the car turned over and those in it fell out and onto a pile of dry brush, about twenty feet below. Keith was picked up in a semi-conscious condition and taken to the Albion hospital, where he was found to be suffering from concussion and a deep cut at the base of the skull.

The three little children, miraculously escaped without injury, while Mr. Keith, Sr., received only a few scratches and bruises.

NO ONE PERFECT

Absolute Truth in Old Saying, "To Err Is Human."

Don't Be Afraid of Making Mistakes; Better by Far to Learn to Profit by Them.

It has been said that the man who never makes a mistake never makes anything else—and certainly the cocksure type always does seem to come a cropper sooner or later, remarks a writer in London Answers.

If she, or he, has insisted a good deal on her, or his, own perfections, there is very little sympathy showered on them when they are "out of luck."

A man who is so strictly honorable and exact that his precision is famed in the whole town has been made honorary treasurer of a big public fund. He finds, perhaps, that his accounts will not balance by £8 odd.

He is so absolutely positive about the correctness of his figures that he is unpleasant to the secretary and offensive to the members of the committee when they suggest possibilities of error. When an independent audit reveals that the error is more in the nature of a foolish mistake—a silly slip that a sixteen-year-old clerk ought not to make—the great "I am" goes down like a pricked balloon.

It is not only mere bounce, it is self-confidence that vanishes under the conviction of a first real blunder.

Or take the case of the typist who is loudly contemptuous of every other girl in the office because they make mistakes in spelling and she—well, she doesn't.

"There is no excuse for bad spelling," she informs the office at large, "if you have had even a county council school education and are not ridiculously careless."

Then one day she types a letter to the chief's most particular client, a learned lord, asking "weather" he could see him that week.

The few sarcastic remarks on carelessness made by the chief rankle so deeply that the office atmosphere develops a purple storm aura from which the angry typist emerges minus her job.

It is decidedly safer to make a little human mistake now and again in place of getting upon a pedestal of perfection, which gives one such nasty bruises when the topple-over comes.

Perhaps it is in the long run just as bad to be too perfect as too full of errors. People do not expect such a wonderful lot from the person who never makes any mistakes.

The generals or admirals who have nothing to learn from their staff, the teachers or scientists who throw aside all textbooks because they have reached to perfect knowledge, the business men or housewives who run their affairs as they did five years ago because they are "not given to making mistakes, and their way is the only right way"—all these people are liable to get a nasty shock some day.

A little study of that Book, which never gets out of date, wherein a man is advised to "walk humbly all the days of his life," might be rather useful.

As the old West country wife said to her man: "Thee be a bigger fool nor me, Tom, for I be in the right of it most times, but thee makes out to be right all the time."

Cultivates Perfumes.

A process, the invention of M. Daniel, professor of botany at Rennes, by which the perfume of flowers is greatly increased has been explained before the Academie des Sciences in Paris. By taking two plants of the same species and grafting one on the other—notably a wormwood on a chrysanthemum—he found not only that the grafted wormwood developed remarkably, but its flowers gave forth a perfume much more powerful than that of the original plant. Moreover, the chrysanthemum had given to the wormwood flower something of its own perfume. The professor collected the seeds of the grafted wormwood and the following year obtained from them some fine plants. They had this peculiar feature—that while the flowers of some of the plants emitted a perfume similar to those of the original graft, others were absolutely without odor.

Beauty Doctor for Pet Dogs.

A beauty doctor for the dog is madame's latest whim in Paris. Not only must she preserve and enhance her own special charms, but those of her pet canine as well. For about $8 little Tou-tou's nose can be made more aristocratic, and $5 will give Mr. Bulldog a number of distinguished wrinkles about the mouth. And there is even hope for his legs, if they are not sufficiently bowed. Only time and money are needed. A tail badly turned can be modified for the modest sum of little more than a dollar. In fact, any sort of a defect can be swiftly removed.

Raw Starch Is Degestible.

It was generally believed that raw starch was harmful, and that all starchy foods must be thoroughly cooked to be digested properly by human beings. This has been disproved in experiments conducted by the Department of Agriculture.

Cornstarch, wheat starch, and rice starch were all completely digested when eaten in a frozen pudding in which they constituted 20 per cent of the entire dish.—Popular Science Monthly.

ANDERSON HIGH SCHOOL WINS TWO MATCH GAMES

VALLEY BASKET BALL TEAM DEFEATS POINT ARENA AND MENDOCINO TEAMS

ANDERSON VALLEY, Jan. 22.—Once more the Anderson valley high school basketball team comes to the front with a victory over Point Arena, on January 11, with a score of 19 to 6. Anderson valley had Point Arena outclassed in every way. Anderson has very good backing with her subs which was used to a good advantage in this game.

On January 18 Anderson valley won their second C. I. F. game, having walked over Mendocino's star players to a score of 19 to 7.

This sure was a surprise to Mendocino's team as they came here, accompanied by a host of rooters, and full of confidence after defeating Fort Bragg.

The Mendocino boys had the Anderson valley team over shadowed in weight but Anderson valley had the team work, which was hard to overcome.

Anderson valley girls also beat the Mendocino girls in a hotly contested 12 to 12 game. In playing off the tie Anderson valley was victorious by one point.

Class B of Mendocino also played the Class B team of Anderson valley high, winning by a score of 25 to 10.

After the game a dainty lunch was served by the students to the three teams and was appreciated by all.

A large crowd was present, as Anderson valley always turns out en masse to encourage her players.

The sum of sixty-two dollars was added to the student body fund.

On Friday evening, January 25, Fort Bragg will play Anderson valley at the local auditorium, where a lively game is expected. This is also a league game.

"THE MAILMAN" SAID TO BE ABSORBING FILM

It's a fine treat for a tired mailman to come home at night and soak his feet in a tub of hot water while his son plays him a tune on the fiddle. But it's rather hard on mother's clean floors if the music becomes so excitable that the mailman forgets his lameness and starts to do a jig in the tub.

"The Mail Man," coming to the State theatre next Thursday and Friday, is full of amusing touches, so human in their comedy that they mirror one's own home life. It is in these splendid moments of relief from the upward trend of drama in the story that Emory Johnson, the director, excels.

Johnson knows the value of breaking into the thread of the plot when details begin to get heavy, to give the audience just a few minutes to digest what has gone before. This deft handling enables his spectators to follow each succeeding step in the story's denouement, and makes his productions highly pleasing.

Besides Ralph Lewis, who plays the title role, "The Mail Man" cast includes Johnnie Walker, Taylor Graves, Josephine Adair, Martha Sleeper, Rosemary Cooper, Virginia True Boardman, Dave Kirby and Hardee Kirkland. Most of these favorites appeared in support of Lewis in one of the former Johnson pictures, "The Third Alarm," "In the Name of the Law," or "Westbound Limited."

CO. FARM BUREAU DIRECTORS MEET HERE JAN. 17TH

Ft. Bragg and Pt. Arena Ask for Centers to Be Established

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR YEAR

Many farm and fruit growers from all parts of the county attended the meetings of the Mendocino county farm bureau and marketing exchange Thursday, January 17. This first meeting of the year finds the delegates well satisfied with the work done the past year and enthusiastic as to what may be accomplished in the year ahead.

The report of the secretary-treasurer shows finances in a healthy condition, and center reports show the membership campaign going well. Many substantial farmers who have never joined before, now see the value of the farm bureau and are coming in.

Work in the various centers will be continued along much the same lines as last year. In several of the centers dairy improvement will be the leading project, others will concentrate on improvement of range conditions. Irrigation is in the lead in Potter valley, and roads and schools are receiving much attention throughout the county. Horticultural interests are being encouraged, more pruning demonstrations are planned and many problems are being worked out.

The utilities department has been adopted as a project for the current year and much is expected from this source. The manager of this department, J. J. Deuel, has accepted the invitation of the board of directors and will be present at their next meeting, February 14, to learn at first hand how the department can be useful in Mendocino county.

Farmers and dairymen of the Point Arena and Fort Bragg sections are asking that farm bureau centers be established at those places and this will be done in the near future.

In order that all sections of the county may have representation on the board, it has been thought best to increase the number of directors-at-large from four to six and a committee was appointed to draft the necessary amendment to the constitution. This will be considered at the February meeting.

Officers for the year were elected as follows: President, J. B. Bellatti, Covelo; vice-president, J. J. Thornton, Potter valley; directors-at-large, J. C. Johnson, J. G. Newman, F. H. Waugh, and L. E. Crawford; state director, J. C. Johnson. The election of a secretary-treasurer was laid over until the next meeting. A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring president, Leon L. Hooper, for his good work the past year.

Professor B. H. Crocheron, head of the extension service of the University of California, was present at the afternoon session. In a short address he complimented the Mendocino county farm bureau on its increasing ability to expedite business and its development of leadership. Of our shortcomings Professor Crocheron mentioned weakness in membership and in attendance at center meetings. He advised that these faults receive attention and be rectified.

He stated that hte Mendocino marketing exchange is built on a safe plan and is one of the few in the state that has gone ahead.

DANCE AT REDWOOD VALLEY

There is to be a dance at Redwood valley in the grange hall tomorrow evening, January 26, and a considerable number of Ukiah people are planning to attend. Supper will be served at midnight and music by Parker's Carroll dance trio insures a good time for every body.

ager Hughes that Montana forfeited the match to Poulos on account of the injury sustained when Poulos applied superhuman strength to his arm in securing the second fall.

The spectators jeered Montana as a quitter, and hisses and boos were as loud as a hail storm. However, the forfeiter's arm was really hurt, but he could not stand the "razzberrying" and the bout was continued after he yelled:

"I am not a quitter, and I am not a piker!"

Within two minutes, Poulos had secured another scissors on the injured arm, and Montana patted the canvas for the final fall.

The preliminary was really a "cheesy" affair. "Pete" Buzokus easily outweighed his much younger opponent, John Miller, and he could have thrown him much quicker than he did. Buzokus took the first fall in 12 minutes with a head scissors and the second in six minutes with a headlock and a body scissors.

FOUR NEW BRIDGES ALMOST COMPLETED ON ROUND VALLEY ROAD

(Willits News)

The completion of the four bridges on the main road from Covelo to Dos Rios depends upon the weather conditions, H. J. Hoff, contractor, stated Thursday.

The bridges over Hindley and Osage creeks are the largest. The bridge over Hindley creek is 124 feet long and over Osage creek 64 feet. The others are a double five foot culvert and a double 30-inch pipe culvert with cement headwork on the road near the Hopp ranch.

The contract for the construction of the bridges was let to H. J. Hoff and W. F. Steele, contractors. The work was started October 5. The completed work will cost approximately $16,000, Hoff stated. The estimate was $12,000, but was raised after it was found that the foundation had to be deeper than was specified in the plans and specifications.

All is held in readiness for the pouring of concrete, which will take about three or four days, Hoff asserted. At present the cold weather has delayed the pouring. It may be a month before the weather conditions favor that work.

The road west of Covelo toward the Sacramento country will probably be built in the spring, according to the information received here. The road is approximately 12 miles in length and extends through the government reserve section. In time that road will become part of the state highway.

Appropriations for the construction have been made and tentative plans are now on foot for raising more funds for its use.

Surveyors have been at work in that section for the past few months getting the specifications in line. The road is expected to have an 18-foot bed.

AGRICULTURE STUDENTS ISSUE 2D PUBLICATION

The second issue of the Ukiah "Aggies' Pow-wow," the periodical put out by the agricultural classes of the Ukiah high school, is at hand this week, and is a very creditable piece of work from every standpoint. George Leno appears as the editor, with contributions by the following students: Malcolm Beck, Teddy Richey, Emil Dal Pozzo, Pete Carmichael, Peter Van Huizen, Peter Frye, Henry Carmichael, David Squires; and by Instructor Arthur Shultis.

The various articles are well written and show, in addition to their technical knowledge, an ability on the part of the students to write good plain English and punctuate it well. Miss Yulich has charge of the English instruction.

Leno in his editorial "The Aim of Our Paper," says:

"The aim of our paper is first to stimulate interest in our agricultural course. So far the interest has been pretty good. We had no trouble in getting another first year class this year and we have fair prospects of another good first year class for next year.

Secondly we want the other Ag classes in the state to know what we are accomplishing here. Our paper also may give them some new ideas just as theirs give us some new ones.

Third we want the community and our parents to know just what we are doing and just what we can do. Many of the people in our community that are unfriendly to the agriculture course do not know just what it is and what it is doing. If through our paper we can convince them that the Ag course is really a help and that the high school can't get along without it, we have done a good piece of work. For we will have their friendship, help, and cooperation."

ON SILENT GUARD

Explanation of Mysterious Figure in Grecian Cave.

If Surmise Is Correct, Grim Custodian of Treasure Was Most Cunningly Devised.

Always the Thracian peasant is stirred to tell you stories of caves. I once employed a queer man-of-all-trades as a foreman of excavation. He was a Thracian Greek from Varna, on the Black sea, whence he had been driven by Bulgarians into Greece. He had mostly been a sailor on the Pontic coasts, but he had been to many lands and knew Asia Minor well.

"I could tell you a queer story," he said to me one evening in true sailor fashion, "that a farmer once told me in a village near Smyrna." He lit his pipe (only sailormen among Greeks take to pipes), and started his story after we had finished our digging and were taking our evening coffee by our tents. "This farmer went once far inland into the hills. He found the entrance to a deep cave and, with a certain hesitation, went in. He found himself in a well-cut tunnel that led straight into the rock. After a time he turned a corner and saw a red glimmer of flame.

"Greatly alarmed, he moved on very quietly and cautiously. Again he rounded a bend and saw, at the end of a straight stretch a blaze of fire coming out from a natural vent in the rock. He stopped motionless, for there in front of the flame, was seated the figure of a man perfectly still. He crept on cautiously. Suddenly, as he advanced, the figure rose, rigidly, to its feet, swung round and faced him. He could not see its face, for it was against the light. He took one more nervous step forward and, as he did so, the rigid figure lifted in both its hands a huge hammer, still facing him. He stepped back, and as he did so the figure lowered the hammer. He stepped back one more step, and the figure sat down again. Less nervous, he advanced again.

"As he did so the figure rose once more, silent and rigid. He made one more step, and it lifted its hammer menacingly once more. Again he withdrew, and the figure lowered its hammer and sat down. Now he was thoroughly alarmed and made his way quickly out of the tunnel."

"Did he find out who the man was?" I asked.

"No," replied my sailorman, "he did not, neither did he try. But my opinion is," he continued, "that there was a vast treasure buried in that cave, and the owner had made a mechanical figure which worked automatically by some mechanism that operated from the floor. As you went in you trod upon the levers and the figure rose to its feet. You went further, and it lifted its hammer. If that farmer had taken one step more he would have been a dead man. The fire was a natural vent of gas that was never quenched. There are many such away back in Asia Minor and Persia." He paused, as ancient mariners always pause after they have reached their finest effect: "You would have liked to excavate that cave," he said, simply.

I often wonder what element of truth was at the bottom of that story. All one can be certain of is that the Smyrniot farmer left the cavern in a very great fright. But who is not really afraid of caverns in his inmost heart? We call it "caution"; we are afraid lest the roof fall in and bury us, lest we disappear down some unexpected hole. Really, it is the inborn terror of the dark that frightens us, perhaps itself born of the danger that beset primitive man in caves—cave lions, cave bears, or some last remnant of an earlier, more savage strain of man, the prototype of the ogre of the fairy story.—Exchange.

There Was a Reason.

In the examination of talesmen in the Criminal court by Charles S. Wiltsie, attorney for a defendant on trial, a dialogue occurred between Mr. Wiltsie and William J. Freaney, 1130 North New Jersey street, a plumber, who was a talesman, that created a ripple of merriment throughout the courtroom.

"Have you ever had any previous jury service?" Mr. Wiltsie asked.

"Yes, in this court about fifty years ago," was the reply.

"Do you have any recollection as to the kind of case that was?" the attorney asked.

"Yes, it was a petty criminal case," Mr. Freaney replied. "The jury hung all night to get an extra day."

"You deliberated all night because you had some sincere opinion in the case?" Mr. Wiltsie asked.

"No, I stayed because I couldn't get out," he replied.—Indianapolis News.

Dig Up Statue of Minerva.

A colossal seated statue of Minerva, carved from colored alabaster, has been discovered on the site of the Emporium, which was a landing place on the Tiber for marble shipments in the days of republican and imperial Rome. Surrounding Emporium were schools of marble cutters and sculptors, and there also were many Hellenistic art associations.

Workmen digging the foundation for a building came upon the statue, which is carved in the most exquisite Hellenistic style. Its color is said to make it unique.

According to law, half of the treasure belongs to the government, the other half to the owner of the land on which it was found.

USE OF POISON AID IN COYOTE EXTERMINATION

Dogs After Eating Baits, May Be Saved by Giving Doses Of Chloral Hydrate.

EMETIC OF SALT WILL AID

As a result of the coyote poisoning campaign the number of these animals in the county has been reduced to such an extent that sheep left out on the ranges are now unmolested. The cessation of killings of sheep and poultry is the best proof of the effectiveness of the work but the hunter feels better satisfied if he occasionally finds one of the animals that has fallen victim to his baits.

In some districts many have been found—Geo. Vassar of Long valley reporting 27—while in other districts very few have been picked up. This difference is due to a variety of causes, one of which is the topography of the country. Naturally, less coyotes will be found in rough, hilly and brushy territory than on the open range.

An unpleasant feature of the work is that occasionally a valuable dog gets the poison and is killed. In a letter on this subject to Farm Advisor C. S. Myszka, Mr. Chas. G. Poole, predatory animal inspector for California, tells what to use and how to use it in such cases of strychnine poisoning, and these instructions will apply to practically all cases if the poison has not had too long a time to work. Mr. Poole gives the antidote for strychnine as follows:

Chloral hydrate, 20 to 30 grains in water (½ an 8 oz. bottle water). Pour down and if necessary give salt or ipecac to cause vomiting, then a little more chloral.

Mr. Poole continues: "To amplify somewhat on this I may say that where time enough has elapsed so that the poison has worked pretty well into the system and spasms are frequent and violent, it is not advisable to give too much emetic as it but increases the spasms and tends to exhaust the animal. In this case the dose of chloral hydrate may be slightly increased but not too much since it is itself a deadly poison. Its effect is to put the animal to sleep and relieves the nervous system. When the animal comes to it is possible that the stomach may purge itself but in any event, another dose of chloral should be given.

Salt is a much better emetic than grease, while ipecac is still better, but of course not easily obtained. One can force the salt down the animal by hand. It is recommended that if the chloral hydrate cannot be obtained by your people I can secure it for them here."

Mr. Poole encloses a circular from which we quote further:

"In field operations special precaution must be taken at all times to prevent accidental poisoning. Antidotes for strychnine should be included among camp supplies for prompt treatment.

Salt or strong brine in large doses is usually effective in the case of dogs, as it retards the assimilation of strychnine and acts both as an emetic and a physic. An emetic dose would be about one teaspoonful of salt. Emetics should always be given early before absorption of strychnine has occurred, otherwise they may do more harm than good. After the animal has vomited give 15 to 40 grains of chloral hydrate (depending on the size of the dog) in ½ pint of water."

ARE YOU GUILTY?

A FARMER carrying an express package from a big mail-order house was accosted by a local dealer.

"Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express, and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and builds up this locality."

The farmer looked at the merchant a moment and then said:

"Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertise? I read it and didn't know that you had the stuff I have here."

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES
Where Are The People

A few days sojourn in your city reveals the sad fact that only a small percentage of the citizenship attend any house of worship on the Lord's Day.

You feed your mortal body an average of three times daily that mortal body shall decay and return to the dust. How often do you feed your immortal soul which shall live through all eternity?

Stop! Look! Listen! Give God a chance. Be true to yourself.

Attend some church Sunday and let God speak to you through his messengers.

At the Baptist Church you will find a humble Scotchman proclaiming the pure and unadulterated gospel.

Sunday morning he will talk of giants—not giant redwoods—but giant men. The subject will be "Grasshoppers and Giants." Come out and figure out with us to what class you belong.

The subject Sunday night will be "The Rent Veil and the Throne of Grace."

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
"The Four K's"

The 4 "Ks" that appeared on the sidewalk about 9 P. M. last Sunday evening, has opened a public guessing contest.

Morty said that it stood for the four kinds of candy he has to sell, another said that he thought it had something to do with the Klu Klux Klan, but after second thought acknowledged that there is one K too many for them.

Still they as well as each of us, are living in one of the "Four Kingdoms" which will be described by Pastor A. Doak at 7:30 P. M., Sunday evening, Jan. 27.

Every one given a cordial welcome.

The Young Peoples Christian Endeavor Society will hold a business meeting on Friday next, Jan. 25; all members are earnestly requested to attend and participate in the solving of the many, urgent and vital questions that are necessary to uphold the meaning of the society, namely: Endeavoring to become more like THE CHRIST.

New Testament League

The New Testament League is now being formed in conjunction with the Young Peoples Christian Society, the object of which is to induce men and women to read at least one chapter of the New Testament each and every day of their lives.

This is not such a hard task as the Leaguers are to requested to carry one of the small Red Letter New Testaments of the vest pocket size, so that their spare moments may be utilized profitably toward themselves and to the betterment of the world at large.

And again there are many very interesting stories in the New Testament.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

Three of the young men of the St. John's Epworth League are in charge of the party this evening at the church. They are Ewart Mitchell, Theodore De Motte and Paul Lampert. They have planned some special features of entertainment that promise fun for all.

"Youth and Physical Efficiency" will be the topic for next Sunday's Epworth League devotional meeting commencing at 6:30 p. m. This is the third of a series of studies that are proving very helpful and most interesting.

Your Question And Its Answer

QUESTION—"I have been more or less weak since an attack of the 'Flu' three years ago. Please tell me how long it should take for you to get me well?"

ANSWER—The time required for complete restoration to health in any case under Spinal Adjustments depends upon several factors, namely, age of patient, duration of illness, severity of illness, general vitality, the ability of the Chiropractor to correctly analyze the case, determine the causative condition in the spine and correct it, and last but not least, the co-operation he will get from the patient in the matter of regularity of Adjustments. Thus you may see each case demands separate personal study. We invite you to call at our office and let us give you a thorough Spinal Analysis. From what we find in the spine, and due consideration for the points named above, we can give you a quite accurate opinion as to time required in your particular case.

This department is edited to educate the public to a better understanding of Chiropractic. Questions of general importance and practical value will be answered in the order received, if addressed to

COAST NEWS NOTES

(Mendocino Beacon)

FORT BRAGG, Jan. 18—James Mathews, well-known draymen of this place, was seriously injured Thursday evening in a peculiar manner. He was standing in the back of his truck which his son was driving when another auto came up suddenly at the rear. To avoid a collision, his son swung the truck to one side and also started it ahead at a more rapid rate. Mr. Mathews lost his balance and was thrown from the truck to the cement pavement. Unable to stop the car in time, the driver of the approaching car ran over Mr. Mathews, but most fortunately did not seriously injure him. When Mr. Mathews was picked up his head was found to have been injured where he struck the pavement in his fall and there was quite a hemorrhage from one ear. He did not lose consciousness and it is hoped that there is no fracture of the skull. It is thought the drum of the ear was injured.

The long protracted dry spell is having its effect. Mallory's camp will close today on account of not being able to put any more logs in the river which is now full at the camp landing, and there will have to be water enough to run them out before any more can be handled.

Print the News and Tell the Truth
By J. B. SANFORD

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., January 24, 1924.—At frequent intervals, the Johnson-Stephens machine henchmen who have been kicked off the state payroll start the agreed-on propaganda—"Richardson has crippled the normal schools." Of course, the principals that started the propaganda know better, but the "parrots" that repeat it are densely ignorant of the facts, and repeat the propaganda because it is a duty that has been assigned to them to perform.

* * * * *

In order that the taxpayers may know the truth about the matter, there is appended below a statement of the appropriations for each biennium since Johnson took office in 1911. These records show the appropriations for normal schools and state teachers' colleges, and are official. Here are the figures:

NOMAL SCHOOL APPROPRIATIONS

Johnson Administration	1911	$ 600,600
Johnson Administration	1913	861,100
Johnson Administration	1915	1,025,645
Johnson-Stephens Adm.	1917	1,218,780
Stephens Administration	1919	1,349,378
Stephens Administration	1921	1,697,300
RICHARDSON ADM.	1923	1,720,910

The Los Angeles normal school was the largest school in the state and the appropriations for it are included from 1911 to 1919, inclusive. After that it became a part of the University of California so the appropriations for 1921 and 1923 are for one less institution.

* * * * *

So when Hiram Johnson, by innuendo, intimated that Governor Richardson had "crippled" our normal schools, he forgot to look at the records. Just glance at the above! It will be seen that Richardson, in his first biennium, has given the normal schools and teachers' colleges more than twice what Governor Johnson gave them in both his first bienniums, by over $250,000 besides! Is it "crippling" the normal schools and teachers' colleges to give them TWICE as much as Governor Johnson gave them? How come?

HOME FOR THE DEAF AND BLIND

The next roar that has been emitted by the yellow press is that Richardson has ruthlessly mistreated the poor unfortunate children at the home of the deaf and blind. With watery eyes and tears in their voices they have "deplored" this sad condition. The official records show the following appropriations:

APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE DEAF AND BLIND

Johnson Administration	1911	$220,075
Johnson Administration	1913	278,775
Johnson Administration	1915	271,650
Johnson-Stephens	1917	271,000
Stephens	1919	270,888
Stephens	1921	380,500
RICHARDSON	1923	462,414

In looking over the above, it will be seen that the RICHARDSON administration has given this school more than TWICE as much during its first biennium as Jhonson gave it during his first biennium. If Richardson "crippled" the school, what in the name of goodness did Johnson do to it?

In 1911, there was an appropriation of $60,000 for an art building, and in 1913 an appropriation of $52,000 for a gymnasium, which was doubtless a great comfort to the blind. Since that time no provision has been made to take care of the "waiting list" until 1923 when the Richardson administration allowed $90,000 for such a building. This is certainly "crippling" it with a vengeance.

FEDERAL SCHOOL STATISTICS

Below will be found a statement of educational expenditures as compiled from the federal statistics for the only years for which they are available and a statement of state expenditures for the same years. This includes all expenses, except capital outlays for buildings, which are properly charged up to the schools:

		Educational Expenditures Federal Statistics	State Expenditures Federal Statistics
Johnson	1913,	$ 7,761,375	$21,300,584
Johnson	1915,	8,703,862	31,119,473
Johnson	1916,	9,552,547	32,224,425
Johnson	1917,	10,059,978	30,240,575
Stephens	1918,	11,152,989	33,521,478
Stephens	1919,	11,152,989	35,521,381

* * * * *

The total fixed charges and appropriations for educational purposes, exclusive of appropriations for permanent improvements and equipment, made by the 1923 budget, total $53,593,289.10. In 1921, the total amount provided for these purposes was only $45,875,075.29.

Thus it will be seen that the Richardson Administration has given the schools during its FIRST biennium more than TWICE what Hiram Johnson gave them during his last biennium. If Richardson "crippled" the Department of Education by giving it more than any of his predecessors, what must have been its condition when it came to Richardson?

* * * * *

These figures are from the office of the State Board of Control. They may be verified by writing to the Board of Control, the State Treasurer, or the State Controller. Ordinarily, figures are dry reading. Taxpayers should place these figures in a convenient place, for emissaries of the state machine and enemies of real education will make misstatements regarding the same. Every good citizen naturally wishes to see our educational institutions well provided for so that the rising generation may receive the best education possible. Richardson has done more for the cause of real education than any of his predecessors. Any statement to the contrary is at variance with the facts as shown above.

* * * * *

For the first time in the history of the state an attempt is being made to throw the schools into politics and place them in the hands of politicians and faddists who are masquerading in the guise of educators and misrepresenting the governor of this state who has seen fit to step on some toes in order to secure efficiency and economy.

* * * * *

Farmers and taxpayers should look around in their districts and see the condition of things before accepting the statements of machine henchmen as to their condition. Have any schools been closed on account of lack of funds? Have the salaries of country teachers been "slashed?" Have any necessaries been abolished? Look about you, Mr. Taxpayer. The TRUTH is Governor Richardson has allotted to the schools $7,718,213.81 more than Governor Stephens did during his last biennium. How could this possibly "cripple" the schools?

* * * * *

This is all a smoke screen used to blind the people to what the machine henchmen are really after. The idea that machine henchmen are interested in schools is preposterous! They are trying to save the machine that Richardson has promised to "smash," and wish to keep their bunch of taxeaters on the state payroll. Do not be deceived by their sophistry.

* * * * *

Governor Richardson has kept the faith. He has reduced the budget over 12 million dollars and at the same time allowed the schools over $7,700,000 more than was allowed them during the last biennium of Governor Stephens. At the same time he beat down the taxeaters and kept more than 40 million dollars out of the budget. Had this last amount been forced into the budget by The Spenders, a special advalorem tax rate would have been necessary to raise that amount of money.

* * * * *

The last statement of the yellow press is that Richardson has reduced the taxes of the corporations. That is ignorance personified! The rate of taxation on corporations has been practically the same as it cannot be changed except by a two-thirds vote of both houses. The truth is, corporations are paying more taxes into the state treasury today than ever before. During the Johnson-Stephens regime (the biennium of 1917-18) something over 27 millions of dollars were collected from the corporations. During Richardson's first biennium 1923-24) the corporations have been charged with eighty-five millions of dollars, which will be collected before the end of the biennium. So it will be seen that the corporations are paying three times as much under Richardson as under the Johnson-Stephens regime. Now who is the friend of the corporations?

* * * * *

Richardson is human and it may be that with all his manifold duties he may have made mistakes. Who of us do not? But he is on the right track and is headed in the right direction. With the experience gained in handling this budget, he can correct its defects and make it almost perfect by the time the next legislature meets. He insists on economy and efficiency and that the state must live within its income.

* * * * *

The fight will have to be fought over this fall when members of the legislature are to be elected. Now is the time for the taxpayers to place only friends of the Governor on guard! On one side stand the Governor and the taxpayers. On the other side stand the machine henchmen, the yellow press and the taxeaters!

HOLD PROGRESSIVE DINNER

A number of high school students had a progressive dinner last Saturday evening. The first course was served at the home of Miss Ethel Hagans, the second at Mrs. Nell Gibson's, with Miss Pauline Benjes as hostess, and the last at the country home of Chas. Crawford, Miss Esther Henry, hostess. The dinner was followed by dancing. Those present were: Misses Ethel Hagans, Smith, Esther Henry, Pauline Benjes, Lora and Verna Moffitt; Messrs. Harry Gilmore, Wm. Chessall, Leonard Connolly, Floyd Moffitt, James Holland, Merle Iversen, Jim Busch, Bill Lawton.

A carload of fine corn fed beef steers was bought the past week from P. C. Stetson by Chris Hansen, the local butcher. We understand this finishes the disposal of Mr. Stetson's cattle.

BUYS GARAGE PROPERTY

Monte Cleland this week bought the garage building at the southeast corner of State and Stephenson streets occupied by the Studebaker agency. He already owned the building adjoining it, occupied by A. F. Moulton's tractor business, and the new purchase gives him a fine piece of property.

The price is said to have been $7,000.

VISITS ON COAST

County Assessor Frank W. Reynolds made a trip to the coast section last week, spending the greater part of the week there. He was attending to official business, with a view to better egualization of valuations in several parts of the coast. He is doing some good work in this line.

Miss Grace Emery was a San Francisco visitor over the week end.

Harold LaPorte went to the city the latter part of last week for several days' visit.

Miss Douglass, a teacher in the local grammar school, returned Sunday evening from a visit with relatives in Berkeley.

I. C. Burke, a well known rancher of the Boonville section, came over on business the latter part of last week.
